

Call for Student Proposals

2022 Mid-America College Art Association Virtual Conference

Slippery Rock University of Pennsylvania

March 31 – April 2, 2022

We are inviting all undergraduate and graduate students from all majors to propose a panel session, roundtable discussion, performance, or poster presentation on the topic of mapping and connecting with oneself, peers, and faculty. How will advancements in technology continue to initiate new understandings of these maps? How does mapping define us both physically and metaphysically?

Defining the Undefined: Art, Education, Technology and the Mapping of Ourselves is particularly interested in sessions that address timely topics relevant to the changing landscape of art, technology, and education, as well as those which consider mapping in relation to cognitive, emotional, and health-based applications.

To propose a session, roundtable discussion, performance or poster presentation please send a title and an abstract (250 words maximum) to MACAA@sru.edu by October 1, 2021, for full consideration. Use MACAA Student Proposal_ last name in the email subject line (example: MACAA Student Proposal_Hertel)

If you have questions, please contact Heather Hertel, Professor of Art at Slippery Rock University of Pennsylvania heather.hertel@sru.edu
